Organizational History

The Town of Westborough was incorporated as the hundredth town in Massachusetts on November 8, 1717, with twenty-seven families living within its borders. Before the official founding of the town, several families had settled around Lake Chauncy, and this area had become known as the "west borough" of Marlborough. In 1775, the "north borough" of Westborough split off from the town to become Northborough.

The first town meeting was held on January 15, 1718, when the new town voted to build a meetinghouse, employ a minister, and elect a town clerk, three selectmen, and a constable. At this time, every town in Massachusetts was required to hire a minister, and church membership was a requisite for participation in town politics. Today,

Westborough continues to operate under the New England open town meeting system and is headed by an elected five-member Board of Selectmen.

Scope and Content Note

The collection includes town treasurer reports, assessors returns, finance books, bills, receipts, orders drawn, and a few records relating to taxes. Individual bills, receipts, and orders drawn have all been lumped together under one series, because bills often became receipts, etc., so it was too difficult and time-consuming to sort out one from the other or to classify them under distinct designations. Charles H. Reed had separated out some of the more notable bills, receipts, and orders drawn, and so this themed grouping has been retained in these few instances.

Note: Town finance records also appear in the following collections:

- 2014.01, Records of Westborough's Involvement in the American Revolution, the Massachusetts Militia, and the Continental Army, 1774-1792
